When we click on Add two number link it will redirect to the url

<http://localhost:3000/addTwoNumber?n1=5&n2=10>

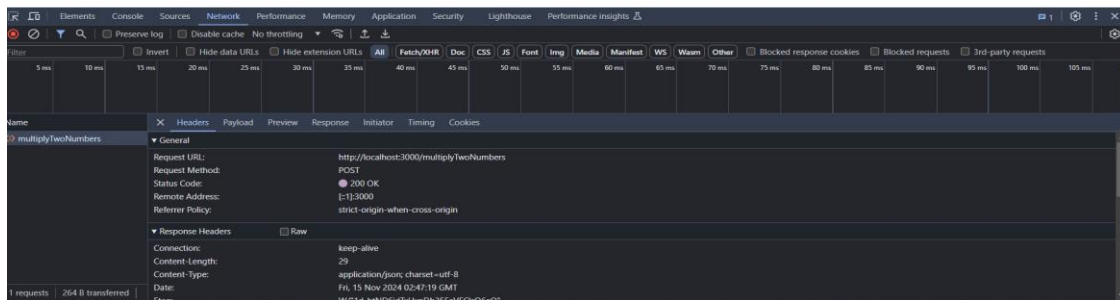

it is used get method to get the data and it will display the sum of those numbers.

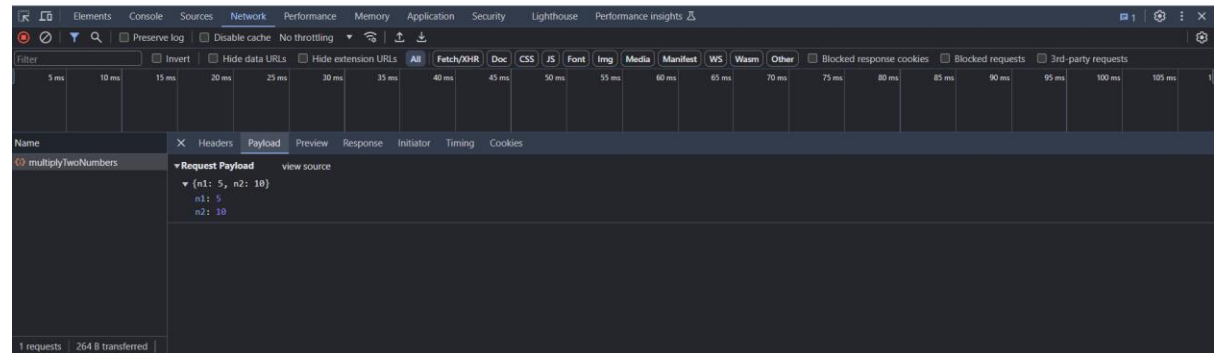

Then I have added one more link to multiply two numbers. In this link I am using post method. When we click on this link, data is passed as json format and it is returning json data. I have added one event listener, when we click on this link the click event is called. In that we are fetching the api call and passing the payload and making the post request. After that I am console the output.
